Bibliography on Race Problems

From the Book - "The Cult of Equality"

Biological Basis of Human Nature - H.S. Jennings (W.W. Norton & Co., N.Y., 1930)

Mulatto In The United States, The - Edward Bryon Reuter (Richard Badger, Boston, 1918)

Negroes in Brazil-Donal Pierson (Univ. of Chicago Press, 1942)
An important addition to the literature on the Negro. This study is comprehensive in detail and shows the results of the merging of the white and black races in the greatest nation of South America.

New World A-Coming - Roi Ottley (Litreary Classics, Inc., N.Y., 1943)
This is the best book about the modern American Negro as he fits into the American scene. In fact it is so good that many Negroes do not like it. Written by a Negro, "New World A-Coming" gives a picture of life in Harlem as it is lived today, and tells interestingly of what is going on "Inside Black America" (the sub-title).

Passing of the Great Race-Madison Grant (Scribner, N.Y., 1916)

Population Problem, The-A.M. Carr-Saunders (Oxford, 1922)

Race and History - Eugene Pittard. Translated by V.C.C. Collum (Knopf, 1926). Dr. Pittard is a Professor of Anthropology at the University of Geneva.

Race Crossings in Jamaica-C.E. Davenport & M. Steggerda - (Carnegie Inst. of Washington, Pub. No. 395, 1929)

Race Question and The Negro, The - John LaFarge (Longmans, Green & Co., N. Y., 1943)

Rising Tide of Color, The & Lothrop Stoddard (Scribner, 1920)

Slave Trade, The - H. C. Carey (Philadelphia, 1956)

Surgical Peculiarities of The American Negro - Dr. Rudolph Matas (New Orleans, 1895) Dr. Rudolph Matas of New Orleans, internationally known surgeon, wrote this monograph over fifty years ago. The result of extensive research, observation and wide experience, written in a scholarly manner.

Up From Slavery - Booker T. Washington (Doubleday Page & Co., 1900)
One of the greatest books ever written in America. Translated into 70 languages, "Up from Slavery" is an inspiration to the ambitious person of any race.

Up From The Ape - E. A. Hooton (McMillan, 1931)
Dr. Hooton's books are not dull reading. To a beginner in anthropology or to the general reader, I recommend this book with "Why Men Behave Like Apes".
